SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS AND DISABILITY (SEND) POLICY

Mission Statement

St George's Central CE Primary School is committed to the provision of a high quality of education rooted in the Christian faith, serving the spiritual, moral, and educational needs of the community of which it is a part.

Aims

Our SEND policy and information report aims to:

- *Set out how our school will support and make provision for pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities. (SEND).
- *Explain the roles and responsibilities of everyone involved in providing for pupils with SEND.

Legislation and guidance

This policy and information report is based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice and the following legislation:

- *Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for pupils with SEND.
- *The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEND co-ordinators (SENDCOs) and the SEN information report

What does Special Educational Needs mean?

Children have special educational needs if they have a learning difficulty which calls for special educational provision to be made for them. Children have a learning difficulty if they;

- a) Have significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children of the same age; or
- b) Have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for children of the same age in schools within the area of the local education authority.

A child under compulsory school age has special educational needs if they fall within the definition at part a) or part b) (above) or would do so if special educational provision was not made for them.

A child classed as having 'SEN support' is a child who is receiving support which is additional to, or different from, their peers.

Key Principles of the SEN Code of Practice(2014)

- *A child with special educational needs or a disability should have their needs met.
- *Their needs will normally be met in mainstream schools/settings.
- *The views of the child should be sought and taken into account.
- *The views of the parents should be sought and taken into account.
- *Parents have a vital role to play in supporting their child's education.
- *Children with SEND should be offered full access to the curriculum.

How is SEND identified?

Research shows that nationally 16% of children and young people are identified with SEND at some stage in their education, around 1.3% having more significant needs. Identification falls under four main areas. A child may show a Special Educational Need in one or more of the following areas:

Communication and interaction (C&I)

This includes children who need help to develop linguistic competence and communication skills, those with speech, language and communication needs and children who have been diagnosed with Autism Spectrum Condition. As a school we are aware that their difficulties in communication and interaction may increase the risk of emotional and mental health problems and may relate to slower development in English and other subjects.

Cognition and learning (C&L)

Children with these difficulties will learn at a slower pace than other children in their peer group. Their level of concentration would be limited in comparison. Some children will have moderate learning difficulties (MLD) or severe learning difficulties (SLD) which means they will have intellectual or cognitive impairments. The child might have a specific learning difficulty (SPLD) linked generally to one curriculum area. This is usually English or Mathematics.

Social, Mental and Emotional Health (SMEH)

Children may be displaying immature social skills. They could be showing withdrawn or isolated behaviour or displaying the opposite through challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. Some children may have recognised disorders in this field such as Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD), Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) or Attachment Disorder. These social, mental and emotional issues could manifest themselves as problems with mood and conduct around school. Behavioural difficulties do not necessarily mean that a child or young person has a SEND and should not automatically lead to a pupil being registered as having SEND. However consistent disruptive behaviours can be an indication of unmet SEND or that other outside factors may be contributing to their behaviour.

Sensory or Physical needs (S&P)

This is when children may need minor adaptations to the curriculum/environment due to impairments regarding hearing (HI), vision (VI) and multi-sensory impairments (MSI) meaning that the child has a combination of hearing & visual impairment. Some children may have physical disabilities (PD) and may need ongoing support and equipment to access all opportunities at school.

Differentiating the curriculum

Children make progress at different rates and have different ways in which they learn best. When planning lessons based around the National Curriculum, the teacher will take account of this by looking carefully at how to organise their learning, resources, available adults and pace to meet the needs of the different learners. The teacher will then choose suitable ways to help children learn from a range of activities. If children are making slower progress or having particular difficulties in one area, they may be given extra help or a different programme of learning to help them succeed. Teachers at St George's Central are committed to providing quality first teaching by running an effective, inclusive classroom.

The implementation of the Graduated Approach at St George's Central

- *All teachers at St George's Central will provide inclusive quality first teaching as part of their day to day classroom practice.
- *The teacher will differentiate tasks as appropriate to meet the children's needs.
- *If the teacher notices continued difficulty they will have a conversation with the SENDCO who will make an audit of current provision.
- *If needed, specific intervention and low level support will be put in place. This will be discussed with parents/carers.
- *The class teacher and the SENDCO will monitor the interventions and adjustments to check for progress.
- *If there is further concern the SENDCO will discuss this at a planning meeting with the TESS (Targeted Education Support Service) teacher and if necessary, the Educational Psychologist. It could be appropriate to get a specialised assessment from either professional to help remove barriers to learning for that child.
- *At this point, if needed, we would consider referral to an appropriate external agency e.g. Speech & Language therapy, school nurse, CAMHS (The Child and Adolescent Mental Health Service), physiotherapy or charities such as Embrace.
- *We would act on advice and discuss further if needed at the next planning and/or review meetings. These meetings are attended by the SENDCO, Learning Mentor, TESS teacher and sometimes the Educational Psychologist.
- *If there are still concerns about a child's learning we would start to gather evidence for an EHCP (Education Health Care Plan). If a child enters our school with an EHCP already in place, school will meet the requirements outlined in the plan for that child.

If a child is attending our Nursery at Lancaster Avenue and is a two year old, we will follow the guidance outlined in Wigan Council's High Expectations for All document. We will pay particular attention to the Education, Health and Care (EHC) Early Years Pathway (0-5) chapter to ensure a graduated approach.
